

Dear:

Date:

I am a member of the NDSPG Advisory Group and my name is:

I live in your area at:

In 2022, a new law called the Down Syndrome Act was passed.

This law promised to make guidance to help people with Down syndrome get better support.

The guidance is like an instruction book to help us all know how the new law should work.

The Government has not published this guidance yet.

It has been delayed for years because of changes in government and elections.

People with Down syndrome are still waiting for the help they were promised.

Our members with Down syndrome delivered an open letter to the Prime Minister 08.09.26.

The letter asks him to meet with us to talk about the guidance.

Will you ask him to put the Act into action please?
Four years is too long.

Thank you.

Signed:
